

Joel A. Davis Brown, Esq., CLC Advisory Council

Dr. Joel A. Davis Brown is the Chief Visionary Officer of Pneumos LLC, a management consulting and coaching firm based in San Francisco, USA, and Nairobi, Kenya, specializing in organizational strategy and culture, transformational leadership, global inclusion, executive coaching, conflict resolution, and strategic storytelling. He is also the co-founder of the Global Inclusion Praxis Model as well as the Global Inclusion Certification Program, a global institute designed to train practitioners to facilitate equity work anywhere around the world. As a change agent, Joel works strategically to cultivate innovative, creative, and adaptive environments. Joel has partnered with Fortune 500 Companies, non-profit organizations, and government agencies to help them achieve sustained growth and organizational breakthroughs. Joel is also a nationally recognized, spoken word artist in the United States and the author of The Souls of Queer Folk: How Understanding LGBTQ Cultural Values Can Transform Your Leadership Practice.

Joel is a member of SIETAR USA, SIETAR Europa, the International Association of Cross-Cultural Competence and Management, and the International Organizational Development Association. He is also an Expert Panelist with the Global Diversity Equity & Inclusion Benchmarks. Joel is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and the Virginia School of Law and received his doctorate in Educational Leadership from Saint Mary's College in May 2018.